Baden-Powell in Red Deer

Lieut.-General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the hero of Mafeking, was met at the depot last evening by Chief Rothnie, M. A. Munro and A. R. Gibson as the train pulled in from the north. The Chief, after a chat over the last time they met at Piet Retief on the Swaziland border, introduced Messrs. Munro and Gibson, and a pleasant chat took place, bearing on the Boy Scout movement in Red Deer, and Sir Baden gave them many hints as to how to carry it on satisfactorily.

The distinguished General is on his way from Edmonton, where he assisted in opening the fair, to Calgary, where he will inspect the Boy Scouts in that city to-day. He will proceed east at once, and open Toronto exhibition on the 29th.

McCreight-Ellis

A very pretty wedding took place at the beautiful family residence, Douglas street, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Edith Ellis, of the Arlington hotel, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to James A. McCreight, V. S., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Wilkinson. The bride was dressed in an Alice blue crepe, handsomely trimmed with overnet embroidered to match; hat to match, with handsome plumes and wearing a beautiful pendant and chain, given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Pennington. The bridesmaid, Miss McCreight, wore a dress of old rose, trimmed handsomely with satin and lace. Stewart Robertson supported the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, William Pennington, of Penhold. A large number of beautiful presents, suit, glass, silverware and linen were received by the bride from numerous friends.

After the ceremony the company sat down to a splendid wedding breakfast, and, finally, the happy couple took the 11:30 train for Edmonton, where the honeymoon will be spent.

At St. Luke's church, Red Deer, on Aug. 24th, by Rev. L. C. Wilkinson, Joseph, second child of the late James Wheaton and Mrs. Wheaton, of Hyde Park, Leeds, Yorkshire, Eng., and Annie, daughter of the late John Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, of Harrogate, Yorkshire, Eng., and sister of Mrs. P. A. Leather, of Leslieville, Alta.

Baseball.

Red Deer fans will have an opportunity of seeing a high-class article of baseball to-morrow when Hardisty, Alex and Red Deer will do battle for the Brewery Cup, the championship trophy for Alberta. Calgary, who are present holders of the Cup, are disappointed with the support and interest taken in the trophy by their home town, and rather than see the game drop into oblivion have decided to offer to Red Deer to defend at a tournament, the winners to guarantee Calgary a return game this season. Hardisty has a very strong team, with Dretchko, the Edmonton Western Canada League pitcher, on the mound. Alex is well known to Red Deer as a snappy bunch of ball tossers. The games will be at 2.30 and 6.15 on the school grounds, and will no doubt be well attended.

The Best Ever Seen.

Great Chief, the small, is the name of the tiniest elephant in all the world. Chief is not a baby but a full grown specimen, 27 years old, and scarcely as tall as the ordinary pony. Chief was imported from India as a special feature of Downie's World's Best Dog and Pony shows, which will exhibit under canvas in this city, on Wednesday, August 31. Chief like all other animals in Downie's show, has received a good education, in fact, he is said to be the best trained elephant in the world. Chief is very fond of the children and all the little folks will have an opportunity to get thoroughly acquainted with him at the dogs' and ponies' reception, which is held at the conclusion of each performance. The prices of admission are, children 25 cts., adults 50 cts.

Red Deer Wants Branch From G.T.P.

A deputation consisting of Commissioner A. T. Stephenson, Councilors Galbraith and R. B. Welliver, and the News man waited on President Hays, of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and Chairman Smithers, of the Board of Directors, as their special train passed through Red Deer on Friday afternoon last, with a view of inducing the Grand Trunk Pacific to build a branch into Red Deer from their Calgary branch which runs twenty-five miles east of town. The delegation was informed that the company was striving to get their main line completed first and that when that was completed branch lines would be considered.

Mr. Hays commented on the rapid and steady growth he had noticed in Red Deer in the past five years and intimated what the town should do to get a branch line.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bell have the sympathy of all in the death of their daughter Magdalen. The little sufferer passed away Sunday last, aged 19 months. The funeral took place on Tuesday to the Red Deer cemetery, Rev. Brown conducting the service.

Mr. Crawford, counsel for Archie McDonald, received word yesterday from Dr. Clark that the Exchequer the Governor General had instructed the Officer Commanding at Calgary to release McDonald at once. McDonald, it will be remembered, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment on the first of March last by Judge Scott for having issued certain forged cheques for small amounts. His previous good character and the respectability of his parents, as well as the fact that he was only fourteen at the time, seems to have been strong factors in his favor.

BARNES' BIG THREE-RING SHOW IS COMING.

MONDAY, SEPT. 5th.

Local patrons of amusement will be highly pleased to know that this wonderful collection of wild beasts, all highly trained, will give two performances in Red Deer, Sept. 5th.

This show has appeared at all the principal fairs of Western Canada this season and comes direct from the big Edmonton fair here, when it was engaged as the principal feature.

Do not confound this mammoth collection of educated wild beasts and domestic animals, transported on their own special train of eighteen cars, with small dog and pony shows that have visited Canada in the years past.

Two hundred wild and domestic animals contribute to the performance, and one feature, as unusual as it is commendable, is the fact that all the animals appear in the three rings and none are carried for exhibition purposes merely.

Included in the number are twenty African lions, Bengal tigers, leopards, pumas, Russian bears, elephants, camels, zebras, a large number of performing dogs and monkeys. All under the mastery of individual trainers.

Colonel Barnes is featuring Milly Barnes and the riding lion "Nero," "Florine" and her group of leopards from the Paris hippodrome; Captain Stonehall and his wonderful performing sea lions, the greatest animal act presented in America; Buckley's Siamese elephants; Siberian bears riding Arabian stallions; Caesar-Wallace, the man-eating lion.

Aside from the animal exhibition will be given ten kindred attractions.

A military band of twenty pieces will be presented, and Barnes' big shows will be greeted by a large attendance at Red Deer.

Jack Birnie, who passed through the frightful accident in Lethbridge by being twisted round a shaft some months ago, is in town looking up old friends, minus a leg and arm.

The duck shooting season opened yesterday, but shooting ducks in the cold and wet is not what it is cracked to be, as many of those who tried it yesterday will testify.

The rain Monday finished up with a two-inch snowfall Monday night, and tall grain was pretty well flattened. Short grain withstood the snow, and, as the beautiful disappeared yesterday morning, a goodly quantity of the grain resumed its usual position. There will, however, be some fields hard to cut as they will remain flat.

W. J. McLean, late principal of the Red Deer school, left Saturday night for Wainwright, where he takes the principalship of the school in that town. Great pressure was brought to bear on Mr. McLean before he consented to give up his idea of completing his university work. He was assured they would pay him what he asked, and he could not very well refuse. His salary will amount to over $1800.

FRANK MOTT,

GAETZ AVE. NORTH.

Anyone wishing to hold an auction sale will do well to consult me before booking elsewhere, my success in the business since starting having been good, as it is less than 2 years since I held my first sale, and to date I have held 65, and have had 65 satisfied clients, and not one complaint, and I have never had to call a sale off. This I attribute to my desire to always give the best service in a straightforward business way, and I have always kept to one scale of charges to all comers which are as follows:—5 per cent. on the first $1,000, and 2½ per cent. on the balance, and I pay all expenses; or 2½ per cent. on the whole amount, and the seller paying all; but whichever way I take the sale, I always agree to make up the bills for the printer, and do my best to aid in the advertising, and mail at least 70 notices in the district, and to all post offices round, and provide guide cards for posting on corners leading to the place of sale. I also give sufficient time to get the goods ready, and placed in order for selling, and supply one clerk.

ABOUT IRRELIGION

There are said to be fully 1,200,000,000 people in the world today who are non-Christian. This takes no account of the thousands upon thousands of people of Christendom, who are irreligious. Time was when every man felt called upon to identify himself with some Christian denomination. Now in every community there are great numbers of people who are absolutely without any denominational connection. When the census-taker comes round they will say they are what their fathers or mothers were, but practically they are irreligious in a denominational sense, and they are not even Christians in the vaguest sense of that term. A returned traveler in China speaking of a certain mandarin, whose acquaintance he had made and with whom he spent some little time, said "He had no religion; he was just like any man of the world anywhere." This did not mean that the mandarin was an objectionable person, but quite otherwise. The fact that he was irreligious was a recommendation in the eyes of the traveler, for he was honorable, straightforward, kind, courageous, and in every way a most likable man, whose influence was always exerted for good. There are thousands of men of whom the same things can be said as were spoken of this mandarin. Some of them are conspicuous in business, science and society; most of them are not.

Let us inquire for a little wherein the irreligion of such people consists. They have their standards of right and wrong which are not in any way different from the ethics of Christianity; but they are unwilling to accept any creed or recognize any church authority; they do not trouble themselves in the slightest degree about theology. They do not so much disbelieve any of the cardinal doctrines of Christianity as they ignore them as of no practical importance. The great historical prototype of such a man was Confucius. This Chinese sage taught practical morality only. He did not found a religion. It is not correct to say of him, as some do, that he ignored the existence of God, for he speaks in writings frequently of a Power, which he calls Shang-te, whose visible manifestation is the Universe; but he discouraged his followers from speculating as to the nature of Shang-te, which he said was "unconnected with their duties and far beyond their depth." The people we speak of are irreligious in the sense that Confucius was. They do not believe that thereby they will please God, but because they think it is right. The expectation of a future reward or the fear of future punishment does not influence them in the slightest particular. These are the men whose failure to go to church is so frequently a topic of discussion. There are thousands of young men growing up in this class all over this western land, and this fact is one of prime importance.

It seems as if one of the gravest questions confronting the Christian church arises out of the facts above set out. If the sympathies of such men could be enlisted in active church work, it would have a very beneficial effect upon the nation, and if it could be, the loss will be a national one. The whole story of history is of nations which fell because they forsook their gods. It is not necessary to resort to the Bible for proof of this. It is to be found there. Israel and Judah forsook their God and they fell; but so did Nineveh, Babylon, Persia, Egypt, Greece, Rome, and all the other nations of antiquity. They became irreligious; in other words, they abandoned the development of the spiritual side of the life of men. They got out of touch with what Confucius called Shang-te and we call God. The greatest triumphs of humanity have been achieved by men in whose breasts there was a spiritual flame. Perhaps it was greatly misunderstood by them. The Crusaders were led by it, but they did not know what it was. The men who gave England liberty and self-government were inspired by it, although it was displayed in ways that were grotesque. Without it national progress is impossible. This spirit need not take a form at all resembling Christianity. It is not in the case of the Arabs, who carried the Crescent victoriously through so many lands. It did not in the case of the Japanese, who showed themselves invincible in war with Russia. Displayed upon it, if we let this spirit die out of a nation, the nation will itself die. Materialism and morality never yet made a state great and never yet kept one from decay. In spiritual life is the source of all progress, the source of all permanent strength.

The Church—the word is here used in its broadest possible sense—needs to be aroused to the truth of what has just been said, and perhaps one of the first things about which it ought to concern itself is whether or not it is necessary to insist upon the acceptance of everything that has been transmitted to us from the Fathers. Christianity must ever be the same; but it is essential to hold that there shall be no progress in the explanation of Christianity? Must we accept as final the things taught upon the most difficult of all subjects by men, who we now know were wrong about almost everything else? Must a man necessarily be placed outside the pale of Christianity because he is honestly unable to accept the ideas advanced by some one in an age when superstition and ignorance were in the saddle? A story is told of Dean Stanley. It is said that he once had in his congregation a learned Hindu of social eminence, who dined with him afterwards. The Hindu turned the conversation upon the service he had attended, and bluntly told the Dean that the latter did not believe what he taught. When the Dean asked him why he said this, the Hindu replied, "If you did, you could not sit here in your comfortable house dining in easy luxury. You would be out in the streets crying upon the people for the sake of the wrath of your God." Here the story ends. Perhaps the incident never occurred, although it was told in the lifetime of the Dean, and appears not to have been contradicted; but if it did occur, what ought the answer of the Dean to have been? Is it not true that the Church does not believe some of the things it teaches in the sense that a man believes his house is on fire when he sees the flames coming out of the windows?

The sum of the whole matter is this: The Church ought to adjust its teachings to what it absolutely believes. Of this the first and most important thing after the existence of God and His exemplification in Jesus Christ, is the reality of a spiritual life, not in the next world, but on this earth, by which is meant a life inspired by spiritual things and shaped according to spiritual standards. Do you ask if there is a spiritual life? Go out some night and look up at the stars as they shine down upon the sea. Let your whole mind and soul go out in contemplation of the infinite. Give yourself to the spirit of the moment. Then you may learn that there is something in the Universe of God which is not material, but to which you are akin. Perhaps you may hear a voice speak to your soul and say: "It is I; be not afraid."

Lacombe, Aug. 15.—There was a big thunderstorm on Saturday evening in Lacombe district. A farmer, Thomas Roberts, about four miles out, who, with his man, was hastening to finish stacking his hay, was struck by lightning, his man also, and the team killed, about 8 o'clock. Mrs. Roberts found both men in the field unconscious. The man soon recovered, but Mr. Roberts remained unconscious until Sunday. His eyebrows, lashes and moustache were burnt off and his clothes and boots ripped off. He is under the care of Dr. Simpson, who was summoned by phone on Saturday.

Frost & Wood No. 3 Binder Has a Strong "Back Bone"

The Frost & Wood No. 3 Binder is built to stand more hard knocks than a binder is commonly supposed to encounter. Striking a boulder or bumping over rough ground does not affect this binder. That's because the binder's back bone consists of heavy pieces of steel firmly riveted together and because the platform is connected to the main power frame by a double steel brace. It's the Quality in material and workmanship that the makers put into the Frost & Wood No. 3 Binder that enables it to give three to five times as many years of service as ordinary binders.

We would like the privilege of showing you the construction of this binder. Then you can be your own judge as to its strength. We would also like to point out to you the Advantages of the Eccentric Sprocket Wheel, which is found on no other binder. This Eccentric Sprocket Wheel makes mowing, more compact, easier-to-shock handles and discharges them faster than ordinary binders. We also wish you to see the No. 3 Knott, which never hesitates an instant, no matter how hard and fast you ask it to work.

"THE DEAD HAS COME TO LIFE" A "FRUIT-A-TIVES" MIRACLE

set before us the opportunity of becoming man's Redeemer. The Logos made man's redemption possible. He voluntarily gave himself in death—"lasted death" for every man. As by one man's disobedience the sentence of death passed upon all of the race, even so by the obedience of the man Christ Jesus unto death justification is passed for all of that race. Now we see the wise reason for permitting the sentence to pass through one man's disobedience to all of his posterity. Thus in order to bring man

Now read our text and drink in its depths and beauty and force. The resurrection of mankind from the dead and death and tomb condescend to the full perfection and image of God from which the race fell is the salvation which God has provided for all. Whoever will fall to attain the full recovery of the image and death and death will have himself to blame because of rejection of the glorious arrangements which God made in and through Christ.

God divides the salvation of mankind into two parts: the first is the spirit nature and the world to perfect human nature. The first he is to give to all men, and the second he will accomplish through Christ and the Church during Mesias' reign.

The Church, the "little flock" of saints, called, tried, tested, in the name of the Church in Ages, constitute the "First Resurrection" class and to become "the Bride of the Lamb." These are to be associated with the great heavenly multitude.

Diamond Area Revives.

New life appears to have come again into the diamond industry at the border town of Khatanga, 100 miles from the Khatanga-Khatanga-Burg-Kuruman border. Only recently 38 carats of diamonds were taken out of a small hole of 15 square feet by 9 workers. The diamonds were of very good quality, and were sold for $775. The parcel consisted of about 100 diamonds, the largest of which weighed 1.5 carats. The price was $100 per carat.

A Valuable Egg.
A great auk's egg was sold for $132 at London recently. The egg was the property of Mr. Evelyn Shirley, and the accidental markings caused it to be considered one of the finest specimens in existence. It had lain in a loft for forty or fifty years labelled "valuable".

Students Hold Funeral.

Six undergraduates who were sent down from Cambridge (Eng.) recently for taking part in a "rag" were given a mock funeral, and were escorted to the railway station by forty cabs, a dozen mourners, men, and a host of mourners in long crepe veils.

Police officers were alerted by the loud howling of a dog to the rescue of another dog that had fallen into the river at Yarmouth, Eng. The second dog was rescued, and the first was refused to leave the policemen, and spent the night at the station.

RED DEER LEADS THE WEST.

The Winnipeg Free Press of Tuesday last week published on the first page of the paper a cut of Red Deer's magnificent arch, and in speaking of it remarks: "The arch erected in Red Deer, Alta., at the intersection of the principal streets, in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visit, was the finest that the premier has seen in the west. It was in reality a four-fold arch. At each corner of a square a tower was erected, the towers being nine feet square and twenty-four feet high. Arches twenty-four feet wide were then thrown from each of the towers across the street, so that there was an arch in sight from every direction. The entire structure was hung with tri-color bunting and at night it was all electrically lighted. Appropriate banners were used. Two thousand dollars were spent by the town in its decorations for the occasion."

WHY NOT BLAME SIR WILFRID?

The Calgary Albertan quotes the London Free Press, a Conservative paper, as rebuking the Western farmers for free trade utterances, and uses this as an illustration that the whole Conservative party will fight for a higher tariff. What use is there in the Albertan going to Ontario for illustrations? Sir Wilfrid himself, when in Red Deer, said we had to have a country and we would have to be very careful how we unknocked it, that is to say, changed it in any way. If the Premier is so determined to have the tariff as it is after hearing the farmers' views on the question throughout the West, surely The Albertan might give him some friendly advice instead of going so far afield to find material for a text against the Conservative party.

THE CAUSE OF THE TURN-DOWN

(Lacombe Globe)
When you think it over you cannot blame M. Clark, M.P., very much for the turn down he worked on Lacombe over the Laurier visit. Lacombe will not be in his constituency at next election, and he no doubt remembers the dose the nice people of Red Deer gave him last election, and is taking steps to win their hearts. If the genial doctor would only stop to consider for a few minutes, he would most surely come to the conclusion that he cannot tame the savages of Red Deer. There are too many in the bunch there hankering after office themselves and he will find they will throw the harpoon into him the more earnestly the next time they get a chance. Had it not been for Lacombe, M. Clark, M.P., would at the present time be feeding the festive calves on his Olds ranch—and the Doctor, we think, will acknowledge this fact. The ingratitude of some politicians passeth all understanding.

Sir Wilfrid is out of range of the bombardment of the Farmers of the Plains for a season at least, and he isn't sorry.—Winnipeg Tribune.

The Advocate gives us a lengthy article dealing with the history of the tariff. If you peruse the article carefully you will notice that the Tories lowered the tariff more during the last seven years they were in power than the Grit government has lowered it in the fourteen years since.

A couple of men were struck by lightning near Lacombe a week ago, and nearly killed. This, no doubt, is the result of living in the neighborhood of such an electric volcano as they have up in the Globe office at Lacombe.

Say, if the C.N.R. people would only allow Peter Talbot to run their business for them wouldn't things go along swimmingly? Peter stated Thursday to a Calgary paper that the C.N.R.'s plea that the engineering difficulties in the way of building west of Lacombe was without foundation. The engineers are not in it when Peter takes the grand stand.

The crimes of Spain have made the Pope sad. What are those crimes? His organ, the "Osservatore Romano," states them categorically. The first and big one is the decree permitting non-Catholic worship to be announced publicly. Hitherto no Jew or Protestant could worship in Spain except by creeping in by a back entrance to some room on which no announcement of worship could be made, very much as the first disciples had to do in Jerusalem. This was the law. The "Osservatore" declares it was in the constitution. The Pope says it was in the Concordat. Think how many things were smashed when freedom of worship was granted! Does not the Pope do well to be sad? The next crime was forbidding seditious demonstrations promoted from Rome, and from the Carlist centres, in provinces whose disloyalty to Spanish rule is inveterate, in which "death to Spain" was being shouted. And the last crime was in failing to observe the rules of diplomacy in dealing with the Vatican. For these things the Pope has doomed the Canalejas government to fall at the hands of the Cortes. In making this announcement he has possibly done an indiscreet thing. Should the Cortes not turn upon the Premier and give a majority against him, it will be a defeat for the Pope. Should it do so, it will cause such an ebullition in Spain as will not end till much more drastic things have been accomplished than those proposed by Senor Canalejas. The latter says he is a Catholic, and has sincerely tried to prevent a rupture with the papacy, but must insist on his measures for the enfranchisement of education and the limitation of the growth of religious orders whose multiplicity and immunities are eating out the heart of Spain.—Montreal Witness.

THE GLEICHEN BURLESQUE
(Calgary Herald)
The local Liberal organ announces that Harry Scott, who was recently nominated by the Liberal convention as a candidate for Gleichen, has withdrawn from the contest. Having made this important announcement in its news columns the organ carefully refrains from any editorial comment on it, the reason being that the organ does not know what it can say about it that will not make its party look ridiculous. The provincial government is in a bad way with regard to Gleichen. Mr. Riley, who had been elected as a Liberal member, resigned his seat as a protest against the present government and the manner in which it was formed. The Liberals of the constituency met and, under orders from Hon. Duncan Marshall, the political healer of the administration, they turned a cold shoulder on Mr. Riley, passed a machine-made resolution endorsing the Sifton government, and nominated a machine man to contest the seat. A couple of weeks of the prospect before him, however, satisfied Mr. Scott. He no doubt sees that he has about as much chance of election as would a snowball of growing larger on a summer day. He has therefore decided to let the government work itself out of its present pickle without his assistance. Mr. Riley, who deliberately resigned to test public opinion on the manner in which Premier Sifton acquired office, will no doubt run in Gleichen, and "all the king's horses and all the king's men" of the Edmonton administration cannot defeat him.

The people of Gleichen are not as knook-kneed as the delegates who nominated Mr. Scott at the orders of Mr. Marshall. Whether the government will even have the nerve to nominate anything else remains to be seen. Judging from the tone of today's announcement it would seem that they admit Mr. Riley's strength and would like to take him back into their fold. Mr. Riley is probably too wise to be caught by such shaft.

What a shameful position is that in which the Alberta government is placed. A chief justice who held the respect of the entire province stepped down to become a leader of an administration under circumstances which he too well knows were disgraceful and almost unconstitutional. There was no demand for his appointment and he held no elective position in the community. He was made premier merely to save the party from immediate ruin.

For some months now he has held office and to-day he dare not bring on an election in the constituency of the man who resigned in protest against him. He himself had to go to an obscure constituency in the north in order to get a seat in the legislature. To those who have admired the judicial career of Mr. Sifton, it is indeed a cause for sorrow that he should have truckled to political necessities to the extent of placing himself in the unenviable position which he now occupies.

Unless the government desires to make a burlesque of itself it had better call another Liberal convention in Gleichen, nominate another candidate, and then hold an election before that candidate has time to find out enough about conditions to make him resign. Or if the government is prepared to accept the candidacy of Mr. Riley without protest or opposition, then it is the obvious duty of Mr. Sifton to resign. Mr. Riley protests against Premier Sifton. Is Premier Sifton afraid to protest against Mr. Riley?

British Cruiser Answered Call

SUBJECTS OF EMPIRE WERE BEING ILL-TREATED AND VESSEL WENT TO RELIEF.

Ceiba Honduras, Aug. 18.—The British cruiser Soylla reached here yesterday in response to calls from the British consul, who has been unable to check the cruelties practiced on British subjects.

Captain Theisger of the Soylla has made demands for indemnity for the death of the three British subjects and for cruelties practiced by Hondurans on native Jamaicans, whose British citizenship is recognized. Captain Theisger declares he will seize the customs house unless his demands are met immediately. It is probable that the British commander's demands will be complied with.

There is an intense hatred of Englishmen here among the native Hondurans, particularly if he is an army man, for the Jamaican is recognized as a British subject. The present trouble resulted from a long series of depredations against the Jamaicans. Their property has been seized, and they have been subjected to personal assault.

SALVATION FREE.

But There Was a Collection and Also a Reason For It.
The colored parson had just concluded a powerful sermon on "Salvation Am Free" and was announcing that a collection would be taken for the benefit of the parson and his family. Up jumped an acutely brunette brother in the back of the church.

"Let's see," he interrupted, "yo' ain't no sooner done tellin' us dat salvation am free dan yo' go askin' us fo' money. If salvation am free, why do we use yo' pay fo' it? Dat's what I want to know. An' I tell yo' plinty dat I ain't goin' to gib yo' nothin' until I find out. Now."

DURABLE INK.

The Secret of Its Manufacture Seems to Have Been Lost.
The ink manufacturer has made great strides in his field. He has produced many colored fluids that seem well adapted to ordinary use. But how long will this ink last without fading?

Did you ever pick up a letter written in ink and not note how much of it is illegible because the ink has faded? Some precious documents not a century old are preserved today in such cases, so that the ink will not fade any more. Others have been copied in order to retain the exact chronology of the original authors. Fading ink is one of the things in which the ancients did not believe. Many of the mediaeval manuscripts six and seven hundred years old have their letters formed of ink that is as black and bright as on the day when first written.

Who has the secret of this lost art of making durable ink? It is another one of the lost arts that is worthy of investigation. The ancients had fewer materials to work with and less facilities for laboratory tests, but we must acknowledge that there are some things in which they excelled us. World Today.

Joy of a Yawn.
When life seems more than usually hapless—and such moments do come to even the most hopeful of us—there is a sudden pleasant sympathy in the yawn of the terrier on the rug before the fire. "Ah, you, too, find things a little boring, old fellow," we say to ourselves. A dog yawns nobly, making no attempt at disguising it with politely uplifted paw. All animals seem to enjoy a yawn, except man. We once saw the late lamented hippopotamus at the zoo lift himself slowly from his murky pond and yawn. It was a great spectacle, tremendous, Homer. The concentrated boredom of the whole creature seemed expressed in that gigantic yawn. For a few fastidiously fastidious moments, indeed, people, all seemed merged in one colossal mouth. It was wonderful. Oh, we thought as we came away, to be able to yawn like that when life becomes too silly!—Pall Mall Gazette.

Get Out of Doors.
Trudeau's classic experiment points us in the right direction. After inoculating a number of rabbits with tuberculosis he confined a number of them indoors and turned the others outdoors. The latter all recovered, while the former all died. This experiment shows that a rabbit living upon its natural food and under a natural environment is proof against tuberculosis. There is abundant reason to believe this equally true of man. In other words, tuberculosis is not a necessary evil of human life, but is a natural consequence of erroneous habits and departure from natural conditions. Man is naturally an outdoor animal. A mole lives a healthy life in a burrow. A man must live in the fresh air and the sunshine.—Medical Record.

The Brigands.
The word "brigand" is derived from a portion of the armor worn by archers, English and foreign, and is called the "brigandine." This consisted of an apron of leather plated over, scale fashion, with thin pieces of steel. From the irregularities of the light armed men who wore these defenses the name of brigand became in course of time infamous.

JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT MUST PAY TAXES

Decision Handed Out by Judge Lees on Appeal Against As- sessment of Income

An important decision has just been handed out by His Honor Judge Lees, of Red Deer, in the appeal of Mr. Justice D.L. Scott, N.D. Scott, H. Harvey from the assessment of their incomes by the city of Edmonton.
 The appeals of the three justices were dismissed with costs.

The appellants are justices of the supreme court of Alberta, and each is in receipt of an annual salary of $8,000 per year, $1,000 of which is exempt under the city charter and the assessment being in each case on the remaining $5,000.

The grounds set forth in the appeal against the assessment were that the whole income was exempt for the following reasons:
 "1. That the levying of an income tax is a constitutional privilege of the sovereign, exorcisable only through the legislature, and that the tax in question here is sought to be levied by a municipality, to which the legislature could not delegate its powers.

"2. That the levying of an income tax on judges by the provincial legislature is in conflict with, as being a curtailment of the powers of the Dominion parliament, under the B. N. A. act, section 91 (8), to fix the salaries of the judges.

"3. That the income, being earned in the province at large, is not taxable in any one municipality, the residence of the judges being temporary and subject to change at any time."

In deciding on the first ground of appeal, Judge Lees held:
 "The sovereign speaks, whether his mouthpiece be imperial, federal, provincial, or municipal, so long as its authority be regularly derived, the proper channel from the fountain head.

"I was not referred to any authority which ascribes to income tax any peculiar quality of constitutional privilege which distinguishes from any other taxes."

In regard to the second ground of the judgment stated, "There is no conflict between the sections of the British North America act giving the provinces power to tax incomes, and the section giving the Dominion power to fix the salaries of judges."

TEST OF ASSESSIBILITY.
 "The answer to the third ground is that under the two parts of the city charter, the test of assessibility is the place of residence and not the local source of the income. I do not think it would be seriously contended that the income of a resident of the city, derived wholly from mortgages covering land situated outside the city, would not be taxable by the city. As to the residence being temporary and subject to change, it seems to me that when a change is actually made, it will be time to consider the effects of that change."

The same appeals were entered in three previous years, but in each case judgment was reserved by His Honor Judge Noel, and this is the first time that a judgment has been obtained.

Summer Mortality.

(Calgary News)

Not only has there been a large number of deaths of children in Calgary this summer but typhoid fever has been epidemic among adults. This latter disease has not proved as deadly as the diseases that have been prevalent among the babies, but no matter what conclusions may be drawn from a comparison, they cannot be of a cheering nature. The causes of infant mortality have been discussed in the Daily News but the typhoid epidemic is a new evil. It would be thought that Calgary, with its ample supply of pure water and its extensive sewer system would be free from this disease, and the announcement that this is not the case will come as a shock.

Inquiry reveals the fact that a considerable number of citizens are still using well water and that the sewer system, while in general, does not cover every section of the city. It is patent that both our waterworks and sewer systems must be extended expeditiously if the city's health is to be preserved. The health officer would do well to look into the matter and take such measures as are immediately needed.

St. Joseph's Convent.

The classes in the St. Joseph's convent will reopen by September 15.

The new institution has met with considerable success since its erection, not quite two years ago. The number of boarders has increased so rapidly that it has been necessary to finish up the basement and the upper story.
 The building is now complete, and has been provided with its own waterworks.

That the convent has been giving highly satisfactory results is shown by the fact that pupils have been coming from all over the country, and, in some instances, even from more considerable centres. A very good class of children have attended the convent from the very beginning, and nothing is left to be desired in the way of good manners and solid education.

The convent has been provided with a typewriter, and the pupils will be given the opportunity of receiving a training along that important line.

 cial election after a recount, made would resign his seat.

Bonnycastle's opponent was first declared elected by 13 but a recount gave the seat to Bonnycastle, owing to a number of ballots having extraneous pencil marks. The Liberals claimed these ballots were spoiled while in possession of the returning officer after election, they being admittedly poorly guarded, but this was denied.

Mentioning resignation, Bonny-castle expressed his disinter-est, or knowledge, or that he was convinced that any irregularity occurred, but in view of the fact that there might be some doubt he decided to resign.

The Mission of the Children's Aid Society.

A Children's Aid Society or Committee empowered to act under the Children's Protection Act of Alberta should be at work in every town and village in the province to attend promptly to cases of child neglect or cruelty, and to act in the capacity of protection officers or friends to the boys and girls who are in need of the helpful advice that only an older person can give.

The work of the Children's Aid Society is:

To rescue homeless, abused or neglected children at the earliest possible age from their unfortunate surroundings;

To find for foster homes for children in need of such homes and the continuing of a watchful care over any children placed in such foster homes;

To protect society against the strongest of its foes, ignorance and vice, by the securing of good home conditions for children who would otherwise grow up the most pernicious and evil influences;

To urge upon parents the serious results bound to accrue from the careless training or neglect of their children during the most impressionable years of early childhood;

To see that every child in the community has a chance to grow up to be a good citizen.

The home life of neglected children may be greatly improved by a little kindly intervention; that failing there is a law in Albert which protects helpless children from abuse or neglect, and it should be appealed to promptly.

Homeless children should be taken care of at once and placed in foster homes or sent to the nearest shelter where they may be cared for until foster homes are found.

Those interested in the work of the Children's Aid Society or those who know of cases of orphans, children, or neglected children, are invited to write to the Superintendent of Neglected Children for Alberta, Edmonton.

Calgary Wants Some Old Cannon.

Two ancient cannon, the relics of old battles, will probably be mounted in front of the new city hall at Calgary, one on each side of the front entrance, when it is completed.

Application was made to Ottawa for a couple of these obsolete cannon and a reply has been received from the militia department stating that these old cannon will be given to Calgary. The only way to the city is the freight charge.

Woman's World

LADY ARTHUR GROSVENOR.

A Titled Englishwoman Who Plays Gypsy During the Summer Months.
 In these days of rapid travel by motor and electric traction there is something refreshingly novel about the adventures of a titled Englishwoman—Lady Arthur Grosvenor's method of holiday making by caravan.

The illustration shows this lady on one of her expeditions, accompanied by a friend and her favorite dogs. While out on these journeys Lady Arthur Grosvenor does all her own cooking over a regular campfire. She makes it a rule to rise at five morning. Breakfast is ready "on the open" by 6, and a little later the wagon is on the move for the day's journey, covering usually about fifteen miles. Now and then the society ladies accompany her for a day or two; but, as a rule, the life proves too strenuous for them. Lord Arthur Grosvenor frequently goes along with his wife on these strange tours, but he is not so fond of the life as Lady Arthur herself. In her own social circle she has become known by the nickname of Sarah Lee.

THIS CARAVAN IN WHICH LADY GROSVENOR TRAVELS.

Lady Arthur Grosvenor's camping out life has given rise to a fad among the upper ten in England. A month or two out of the year many of them attempt to practice the "simple life" by camping out on the lawns of their country mansions, walking barefooted on the grass and limiting themselves to farinaceous diet. There are not enough however, who have the hardi-hood to go in for the "real thing" to the extent indulged in by Lady Arthur Grosvenor.

These gypsy adventures have made her the talk of England for some little time, and quite a number of her society friends cut her because of her barefooted whim. She goes all over England, however, and seldom takes the trouble to explain her identity. On one or two occasions she found it necessary to explain her identity. On one occasion she was found in an embarrassing position by letting it be known that she was a titled lady simply enjoying an outing. As a rule, however, she keeps her identity as a woman of the tramp persuasion, as Lady Grosvenor often found to her great inconvenience. Gypsy vagrancy is not permitted to camp by the roadside, nor can they occupy a field or a meadow without the consent of the landlord. Lady Arthur Grosvenor on several occasions found great difficulty in obtaining the necessary permission and was often moved on by the police from place to place. Now and again, when arriving late at night at some village, her van has been surrounded and somewhat unceremoniously moved on before her ladyship could explain her identity.

Gypsies have an unenviable reputation for pilfering and wherever they go are looked upon with great suspicion. However, despite all the drawbacks, Lady Arthur Grosvenor has stuck to gypsying for several months out of each year and is said to have become quite proficient in the art of buying and selling. She often carries a stock of household necessities, such as brooms, mats and wickerware, and enjoys the experience of going into the farmers' cottages and disposing of her goods.

Warns Against Votes For Women.

A scientific warning against the suffrage business has been spoken by Dr. Max G. Schlapp, professor in the Cornell University Medical school. The professor addressed the women members of a New York club and made clear his opinion that women can't vote and maintain the birth rate. His views seem sufficient to give every suffragette sober reflection. "Women are becoming more and more active," he says. "They seem about to assume the suffrage, but the sex already is overburdened. The curves on statistical tables show a tremendous decrease in the birth rate since 1870. 'Pretence' care away and all increase in insanity and nervous diseases. The lesson is that life processes have been disturbed and that an acute pathological condition exists. All statisticians contend that the mother love, the love of offspring, is diminishing with the greater functional activity. 'Woman is spending too much energy by adding to her functional burdens, robbing herself of her formative powers.' Winterville the aggressive leaders in the fight for equal rights say they say about it, there can be no doubt Dr.
 Schlapp has presented a new aspect of this growing suffragette problem.

When Should Children Wear Glasses?

1. When their eyes are not straight.
 2. When they cannot see the blackboard distinctly.
 3. When reading, if they squint, hold the book sideways, or too close.
 4. When they tire easily of reading or studying.
- All these are signs that great benefit will be derived from wearing glasses.
